Monday

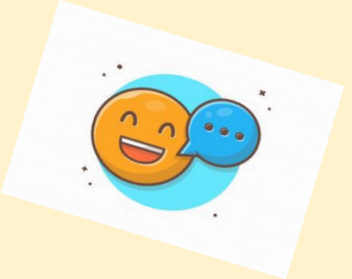
Our reading strategy is…

Inferring

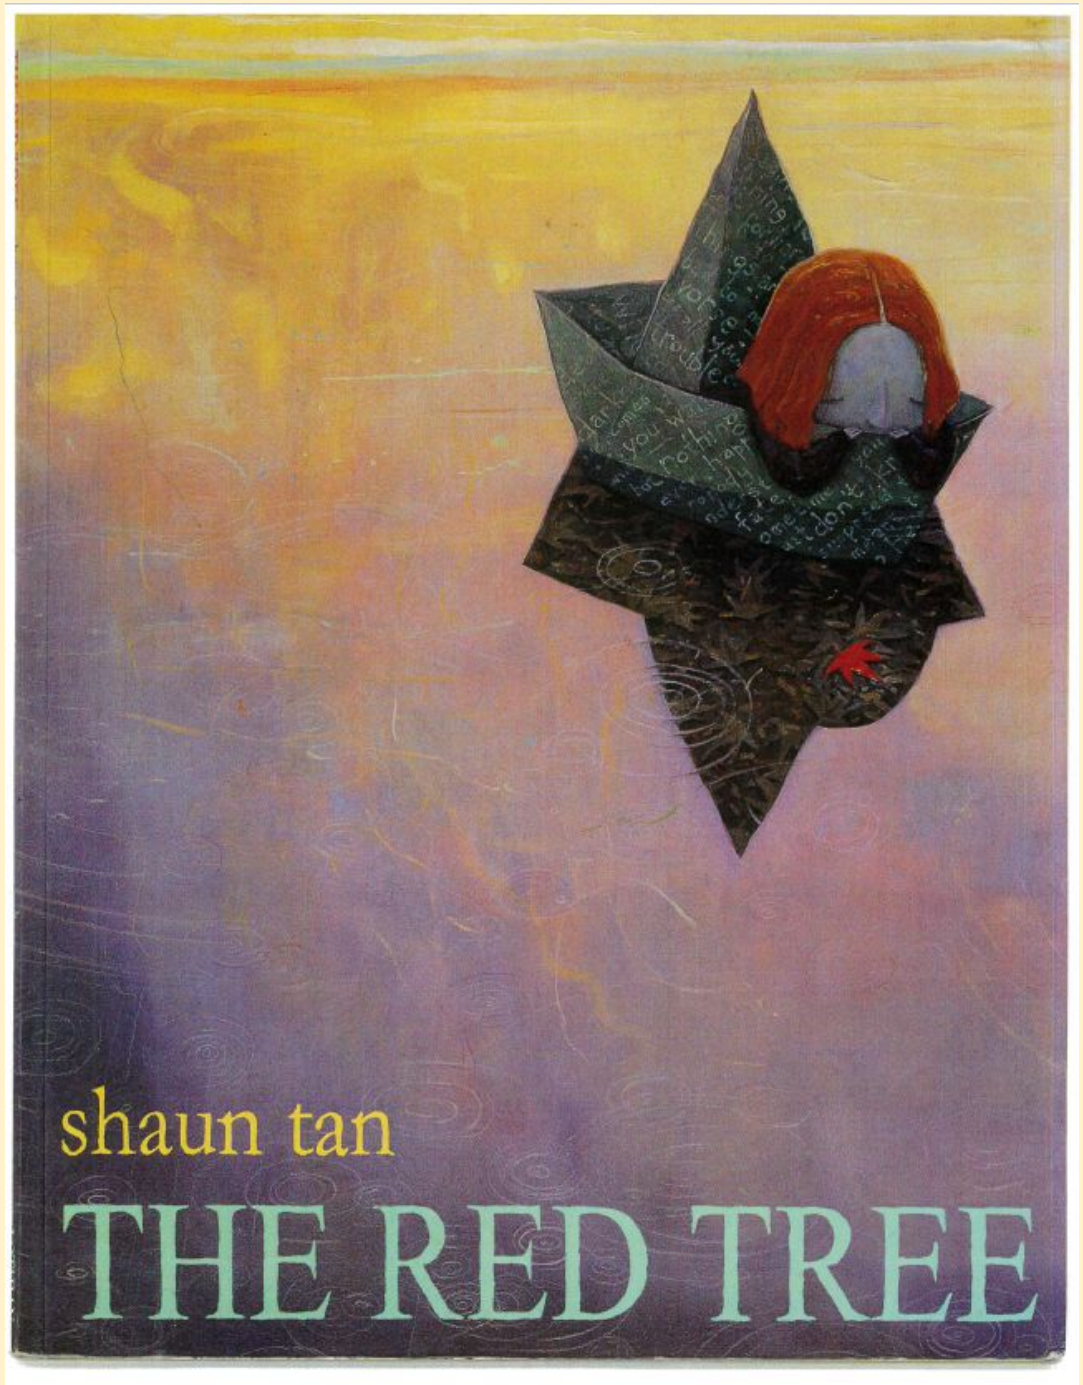
Inferencing is when you use clues from the picture, the text and prior knowledge to work out something the author doesn't tell you.
An inference is an educated guess.

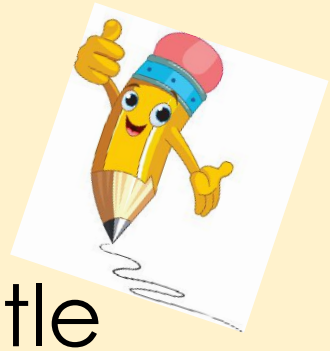
Inferring Stems

- The word * tells me…
- The part * tells me…
- This makes me think that…
- I think this character…
- I think the setting is…
- I think the mood is…
- I think the writer's viewpoint is…
- I think the character's viewpoint is…



Read each of the sentence stems out loud.





How do you think the little girl is feeling?

Inferring stems

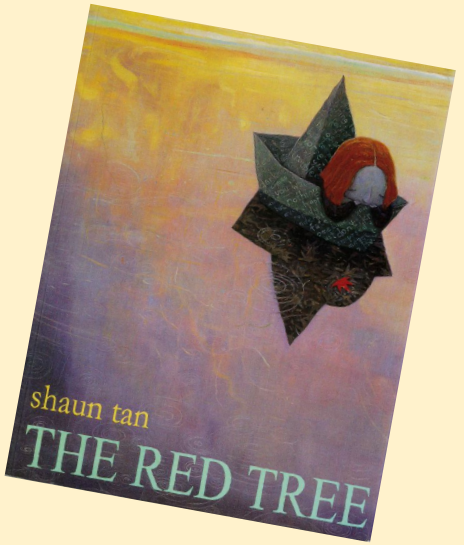
- I think this character…
- … makes me think that…

Use the sentence stems to help you.

Tuesday

Our reading strategy is…

Inferring



Inferring Stems

The word * tells me

What does it mean to infer?

Can you remember any of our sentence stems?

Let's read our story. Try and read it out loud.

T h e

sometimes the day begins with nothing to look forward to and things go from bad to worse

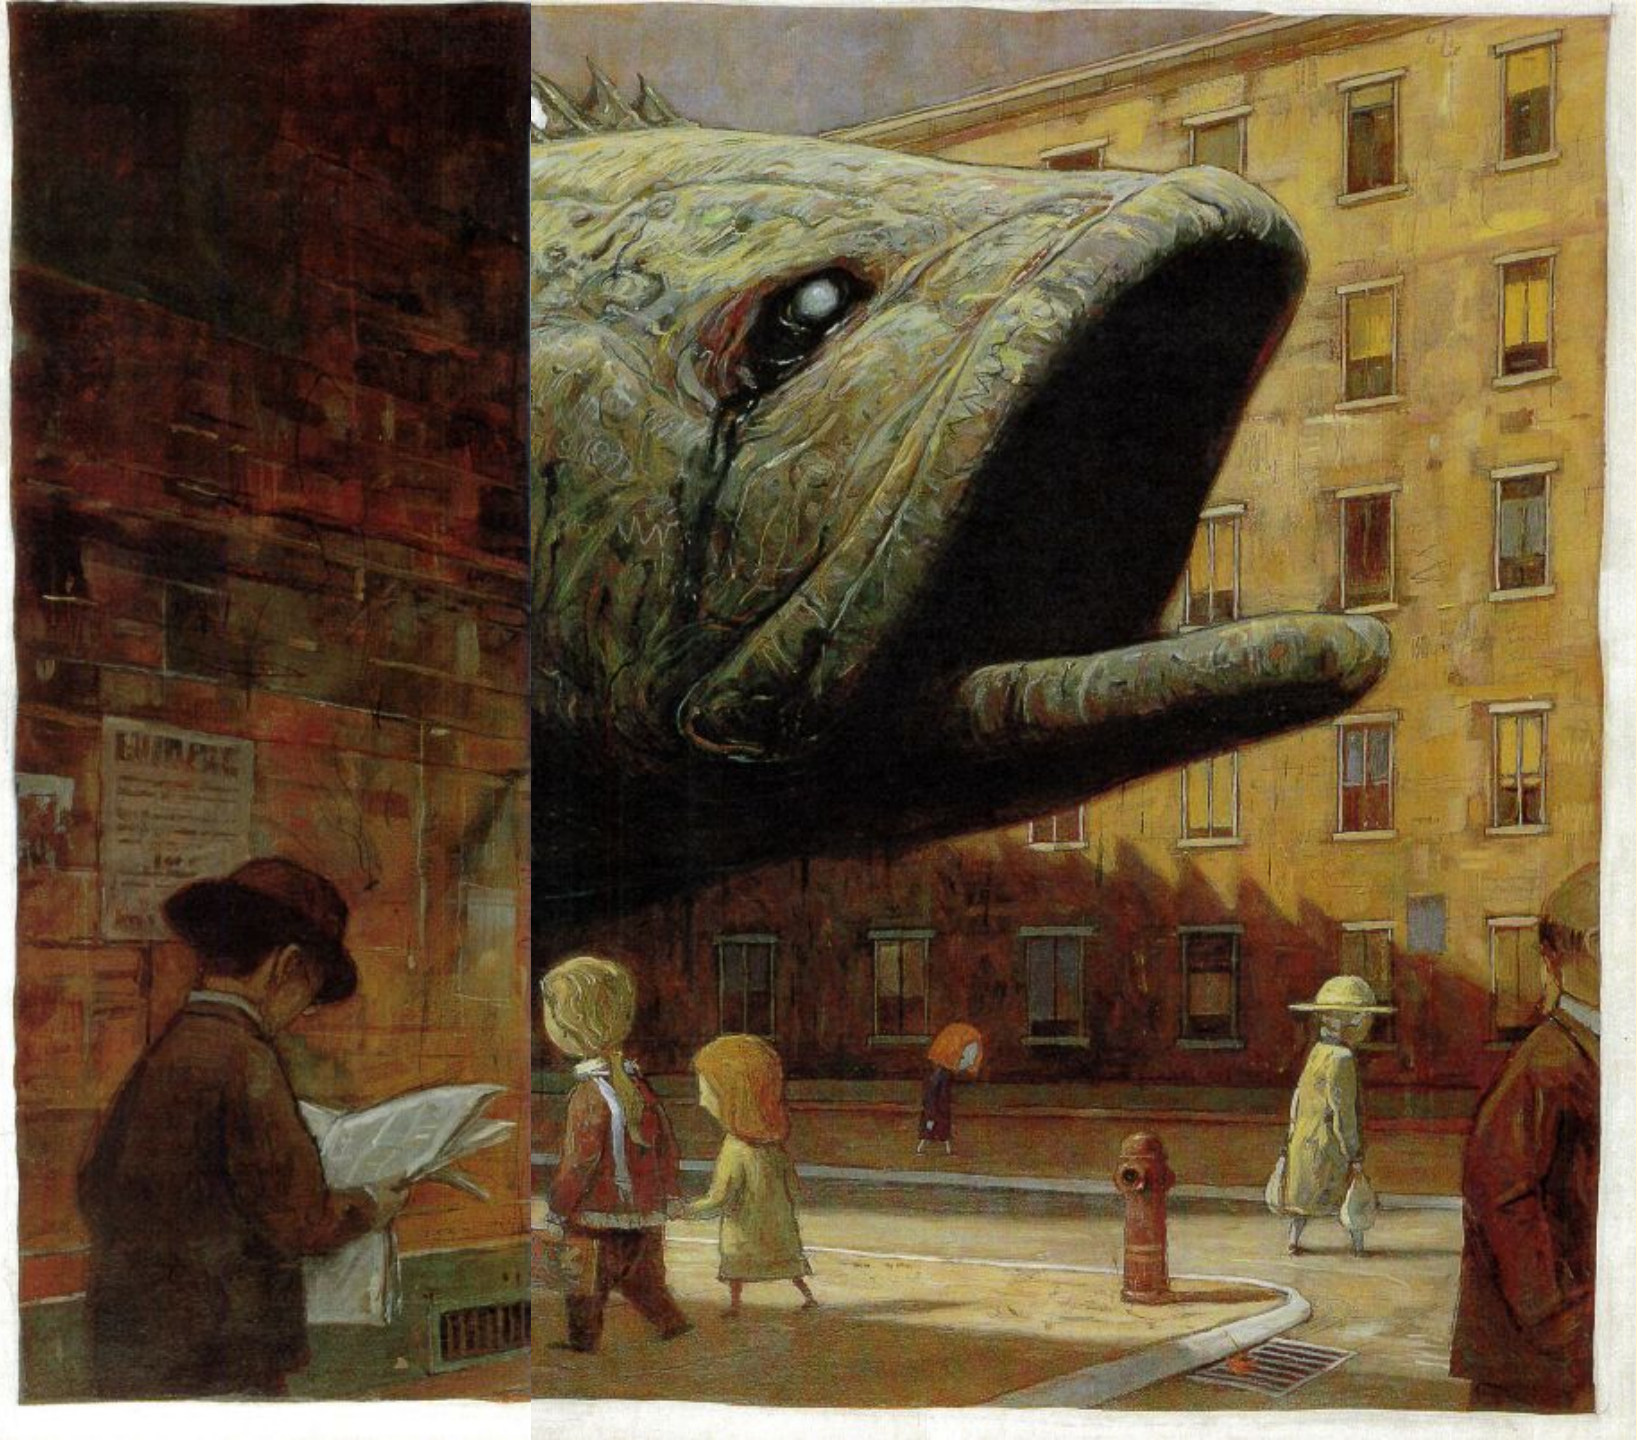
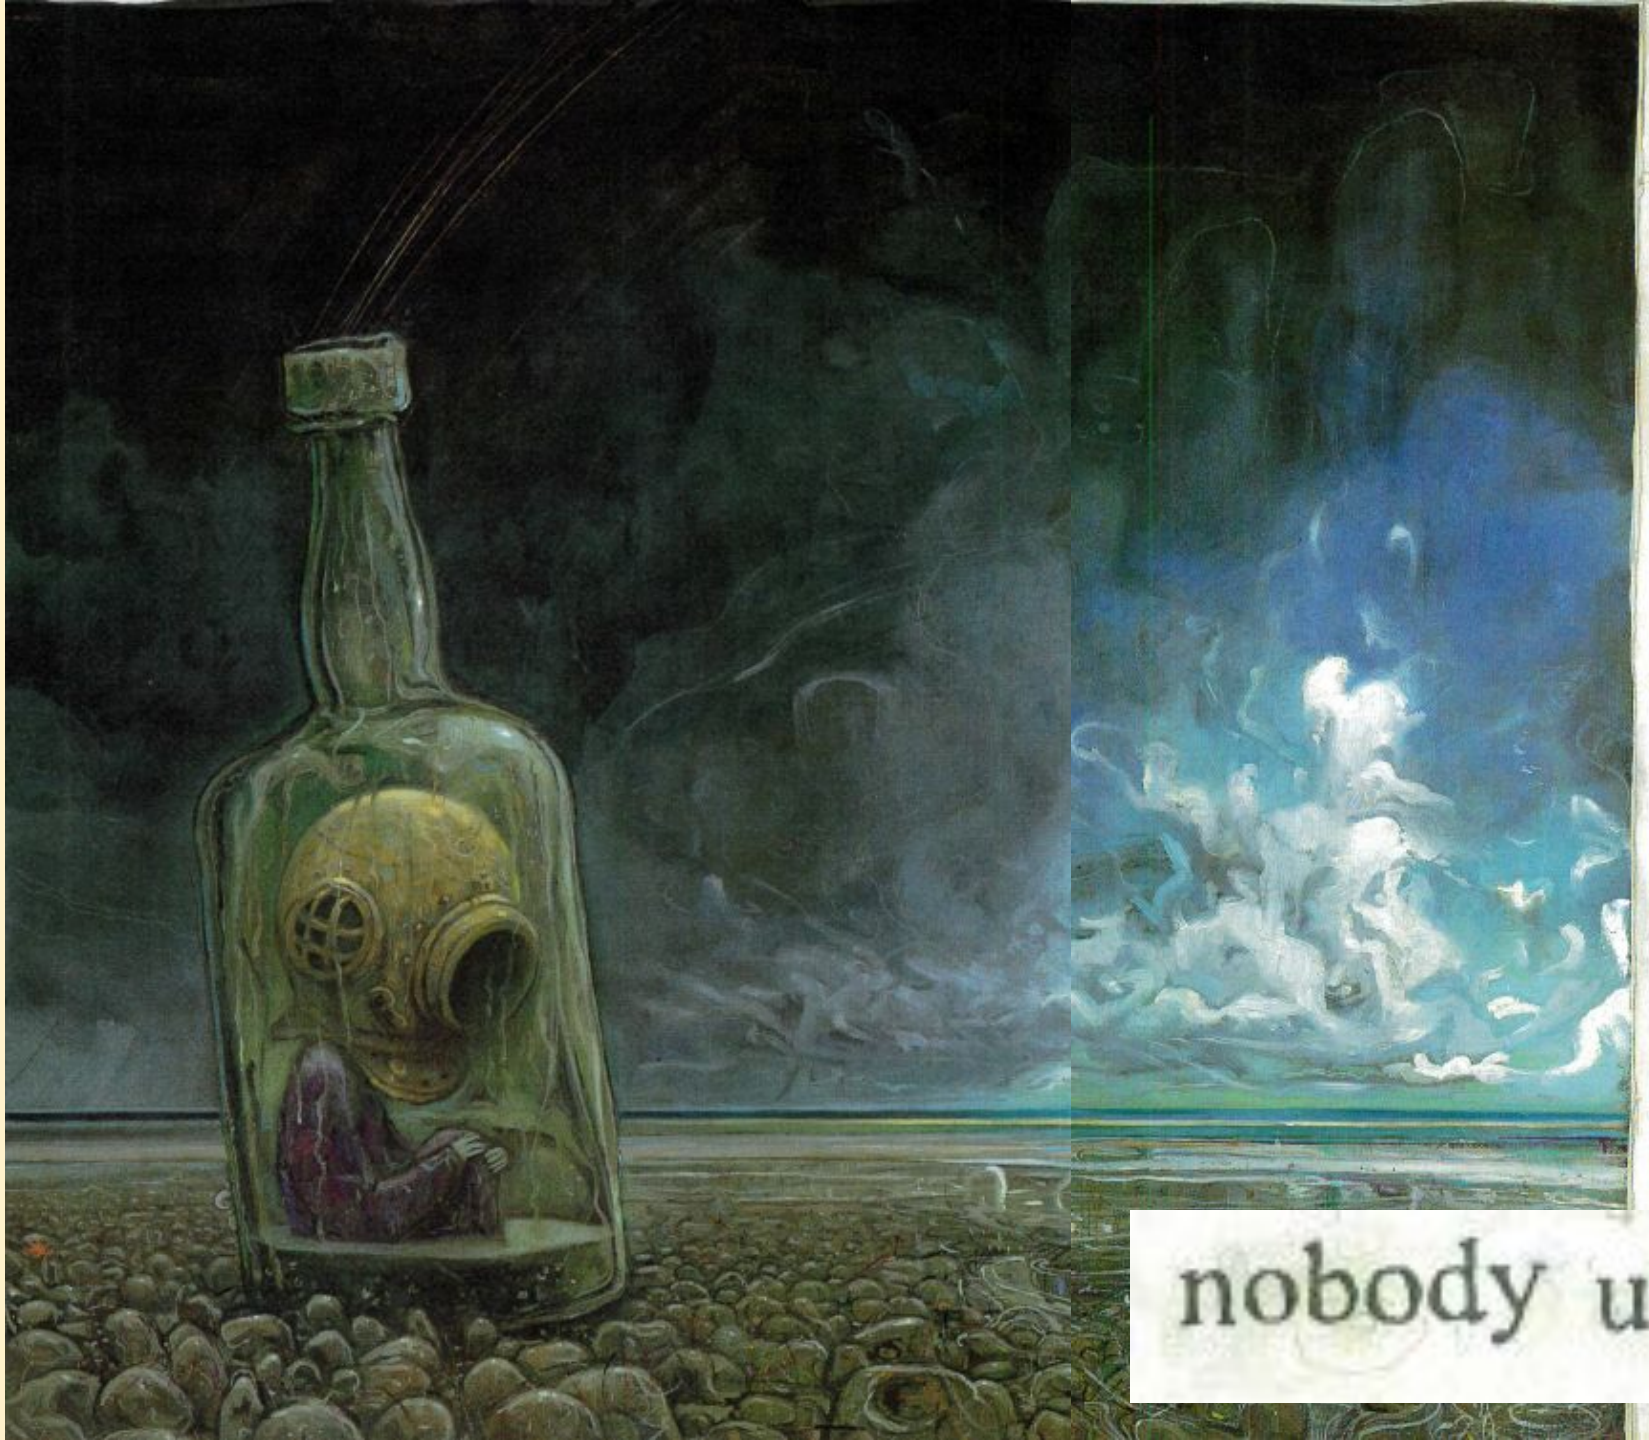
darkness

overcomes you



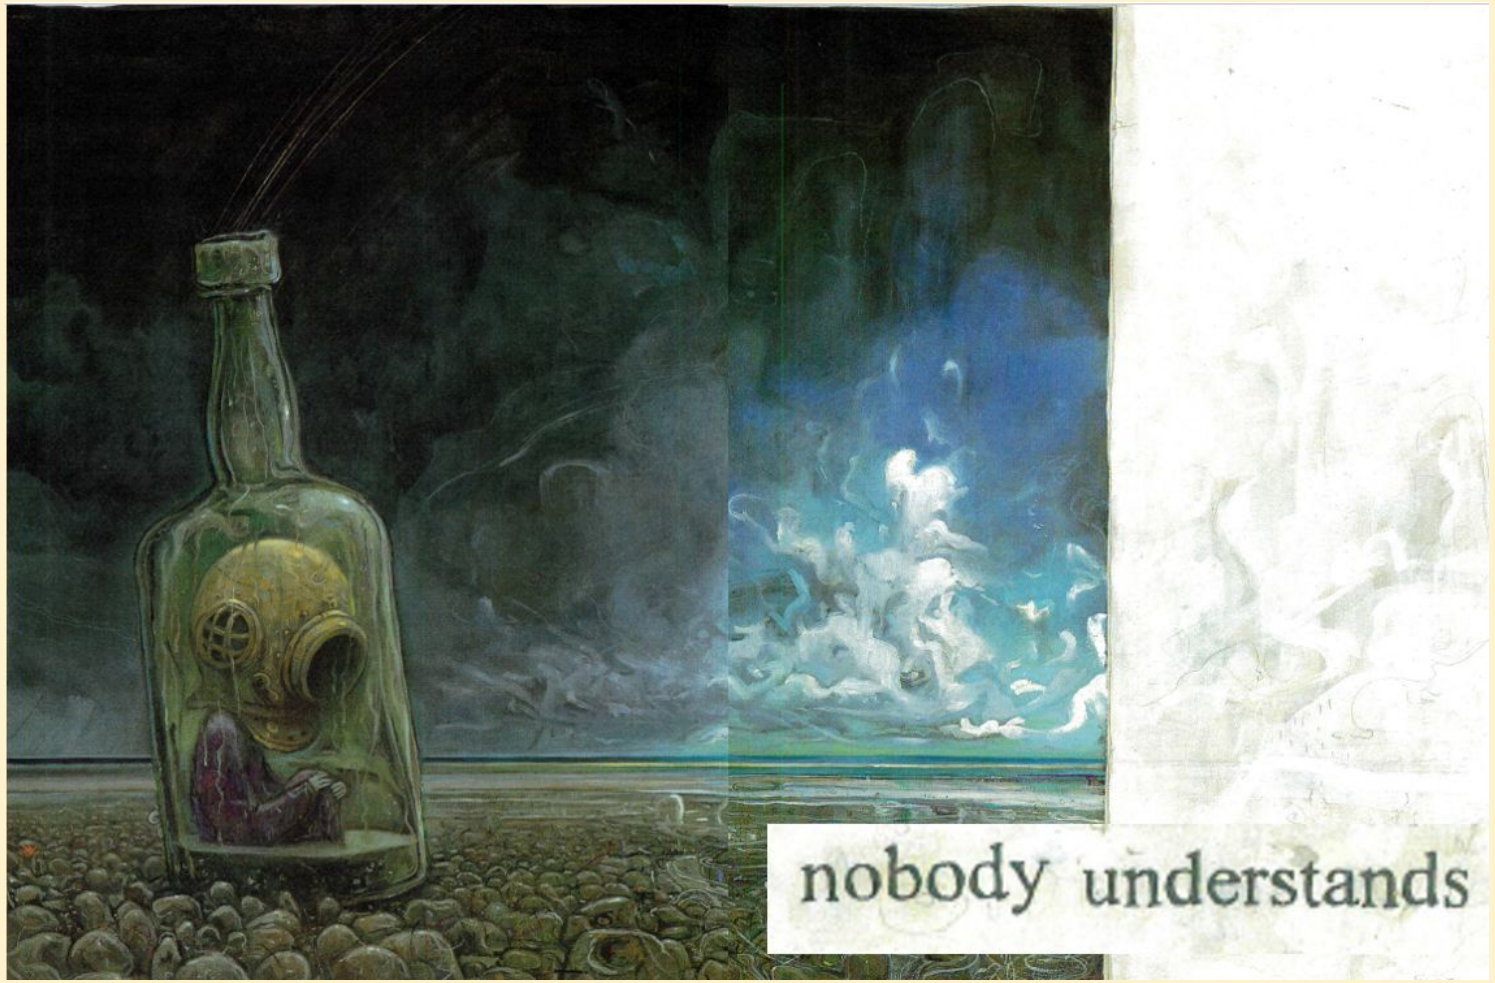


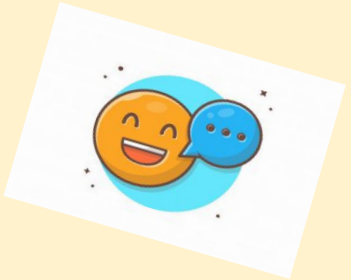
nobody understands

Let’s review…

What is a setting?

A setting is where a story takes place. The setting could be a small, dusty village or a deep, dark wood.





What is the setting for this part of the story?

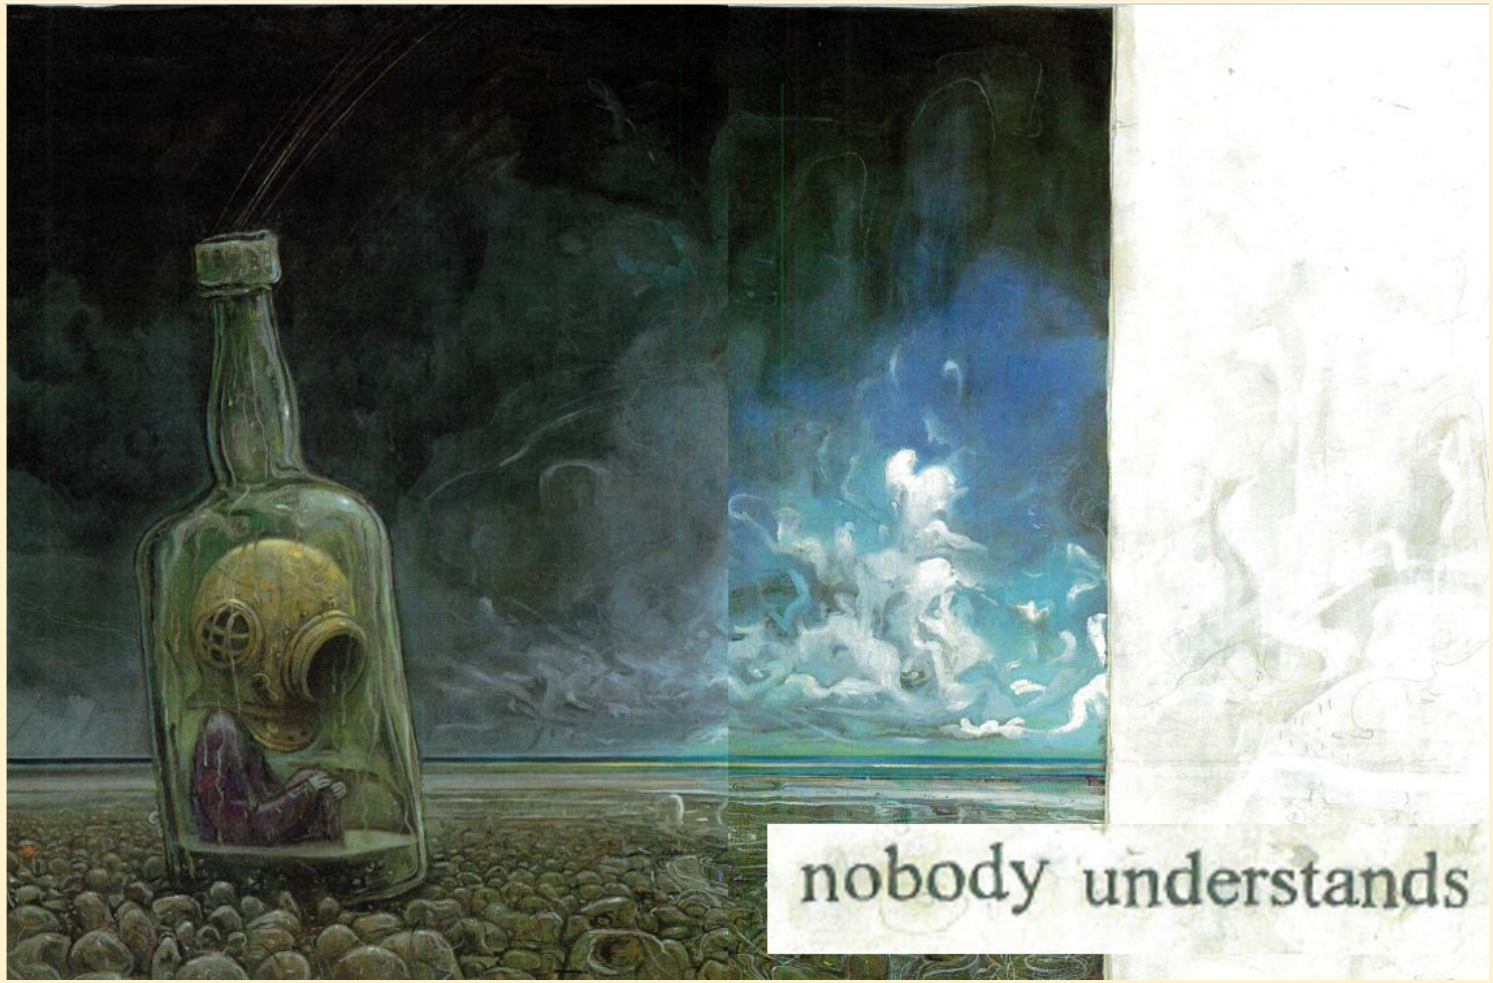
Inferring stems

- I think the setting is…

Let's review…

What is the mood of a story?

The mood of the story is how the setting, characters and events in the story make the reader.



What do you think the mood of this part of the story is?

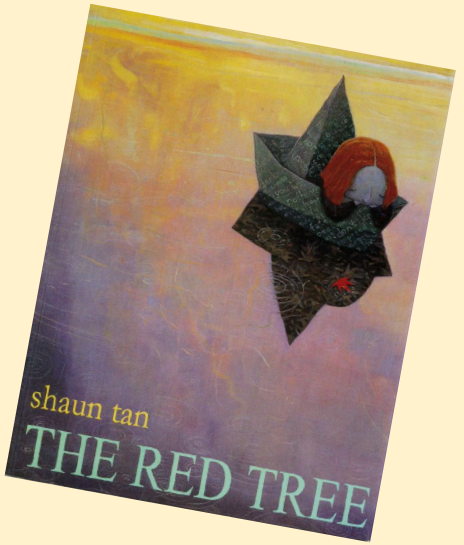
Inferring stems

- I think the mood is…

Wednesday

Our reading strategy is…

Inferring



Inferring Stems

The word * tells me

What does it mean to infer?

Can you remember any of our sentence stems?

the world is a deaf machine without sense or reason Planner 199

System
What is meant by the line of legitimate indulgence?
USE
Central Perth
CONFERMA
you
you

sometimes you wait

and wait

and wait

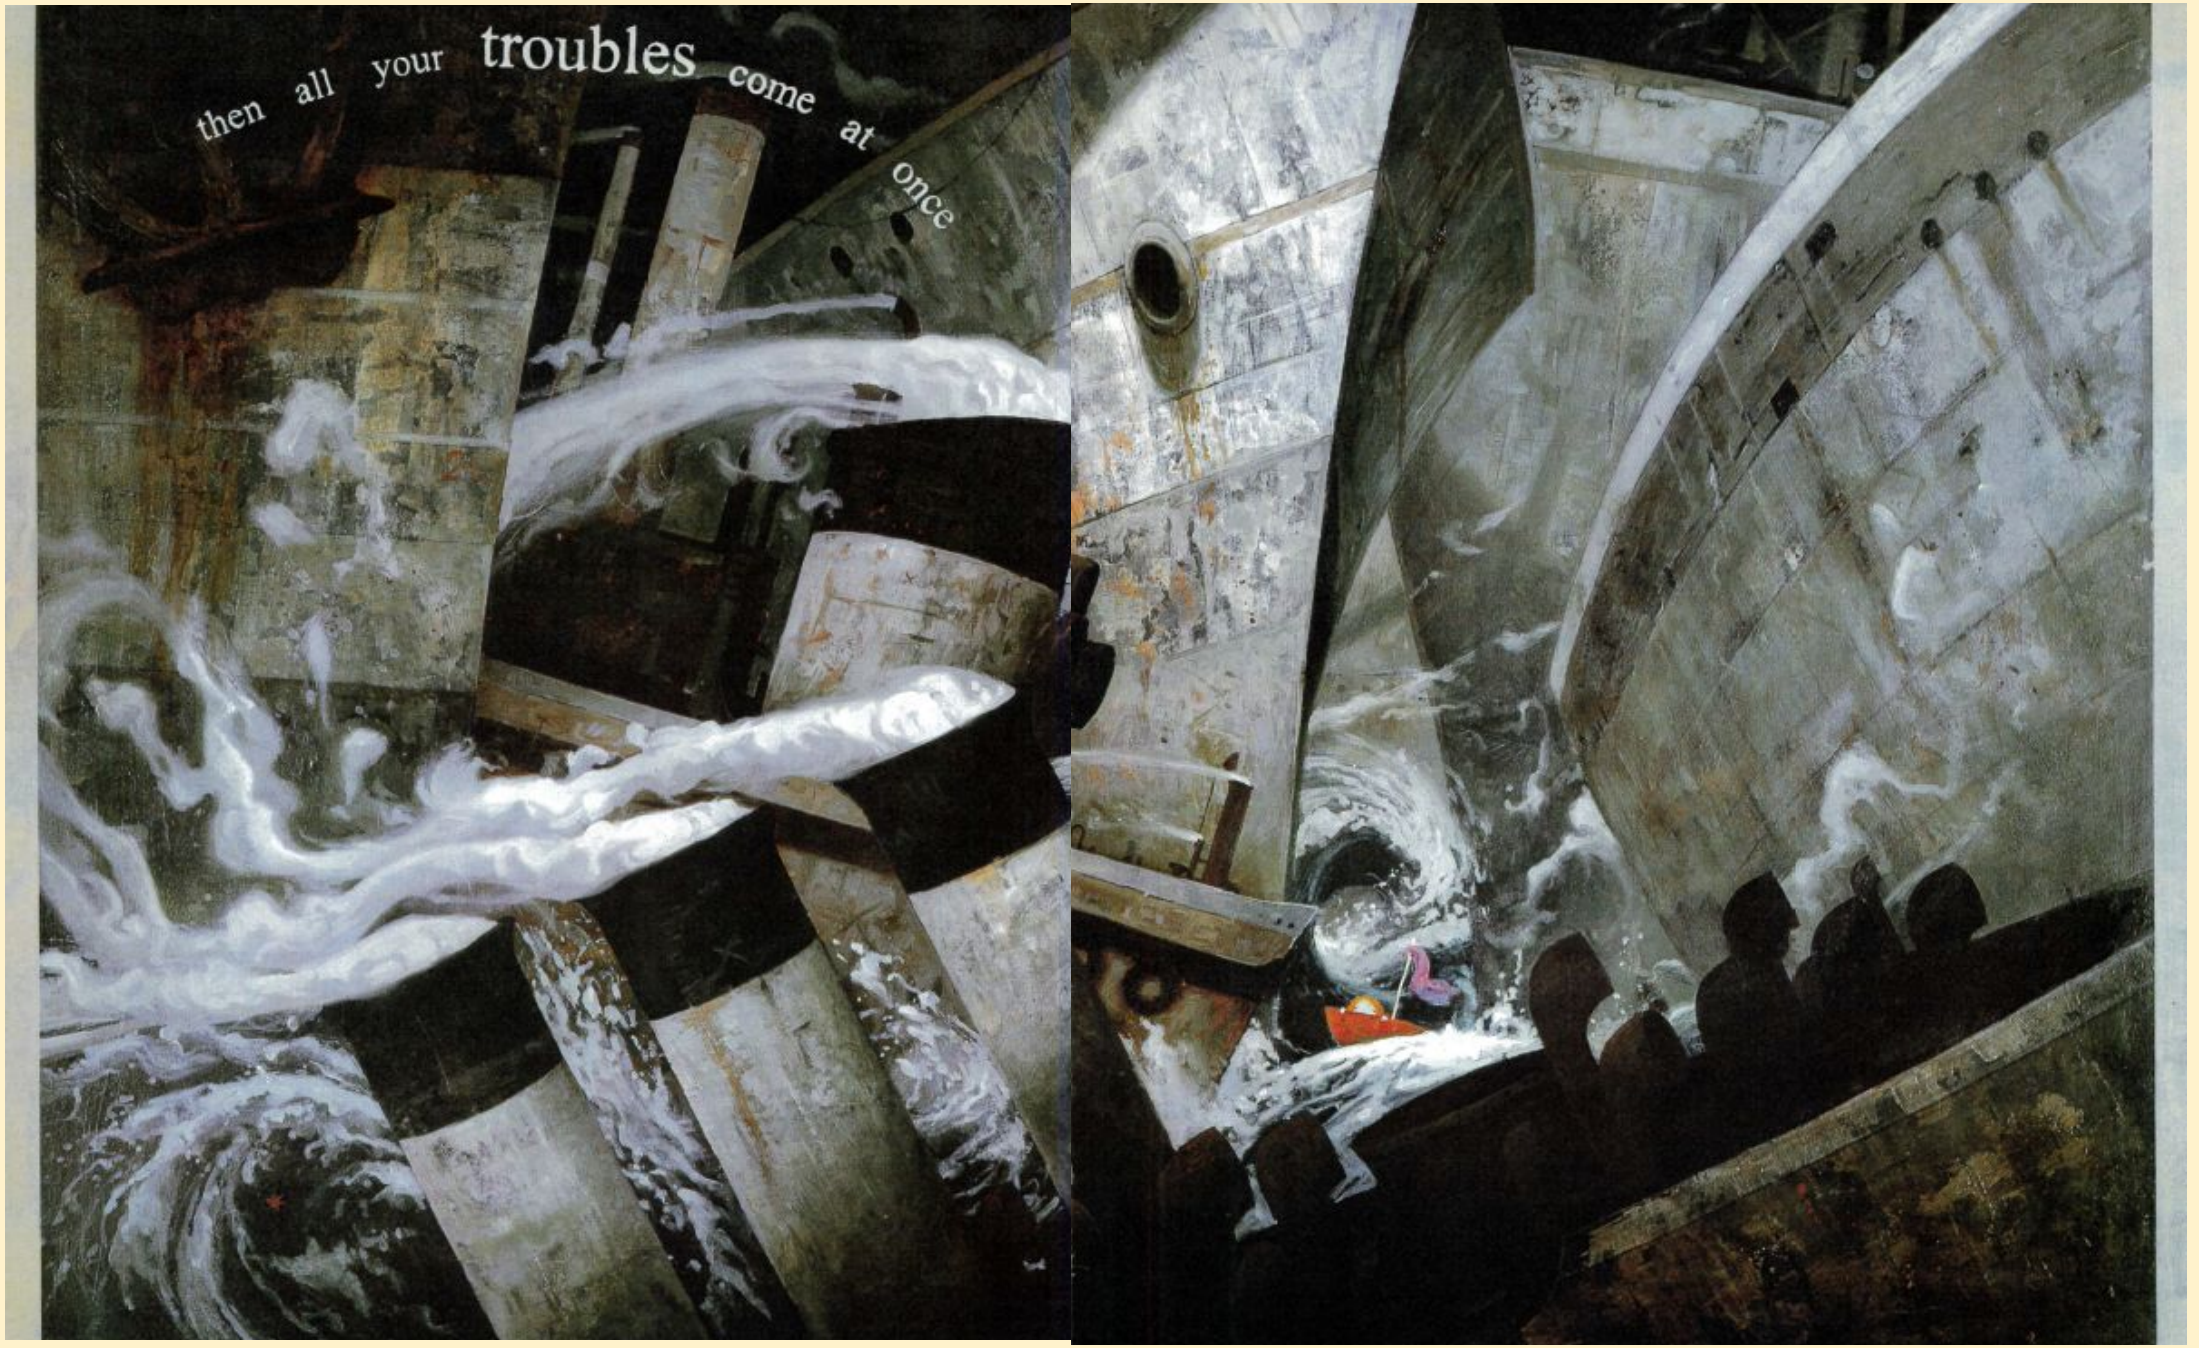
and wait

and wait

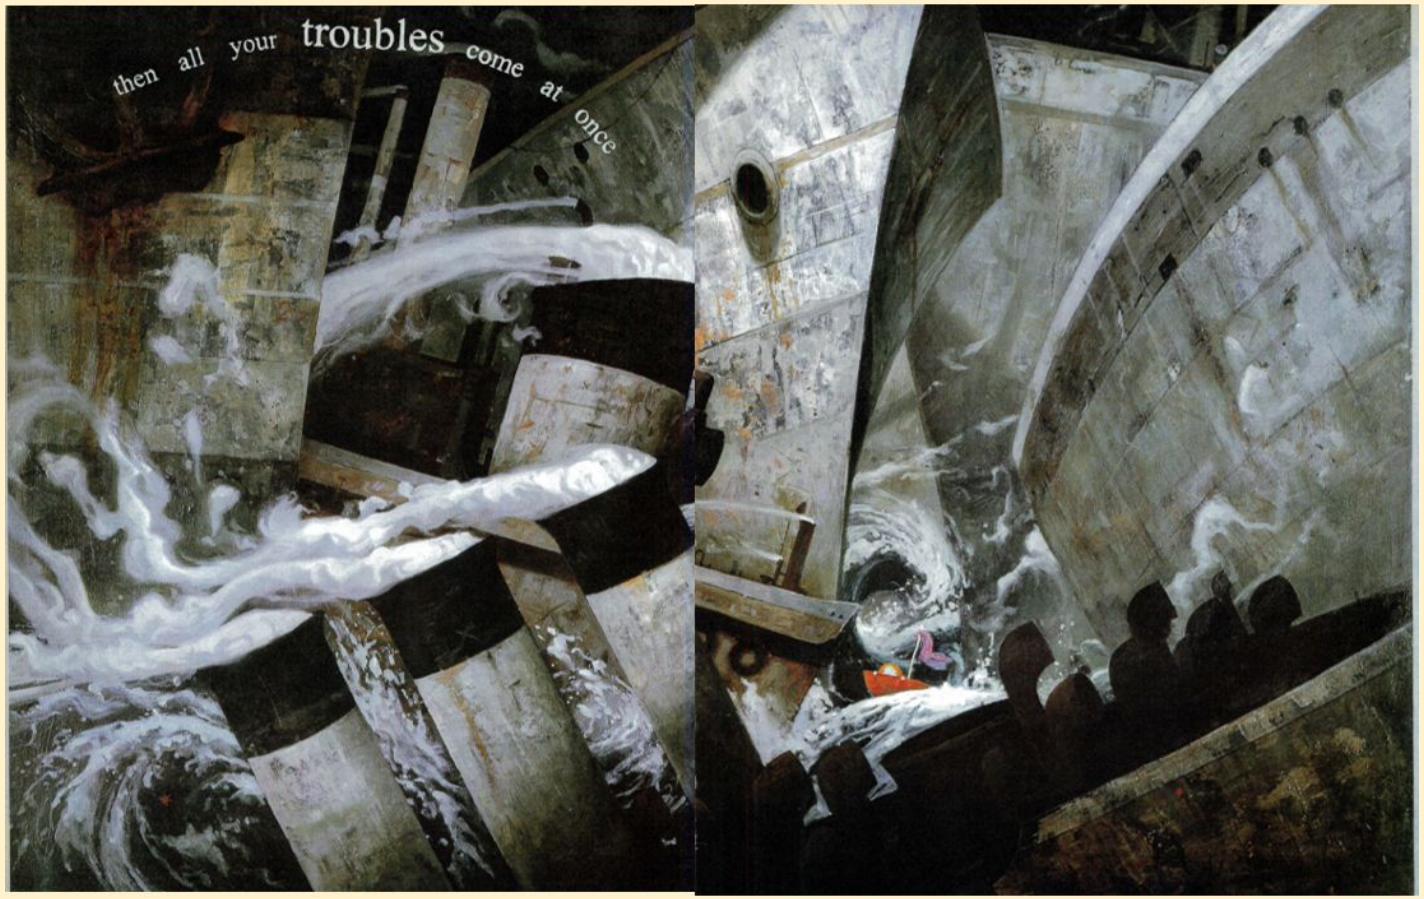
and wait

and wait

but nothing ever happens



then all your troubles come at once



How do you think the little girl is feeling in this part of the story?

Inferring stems

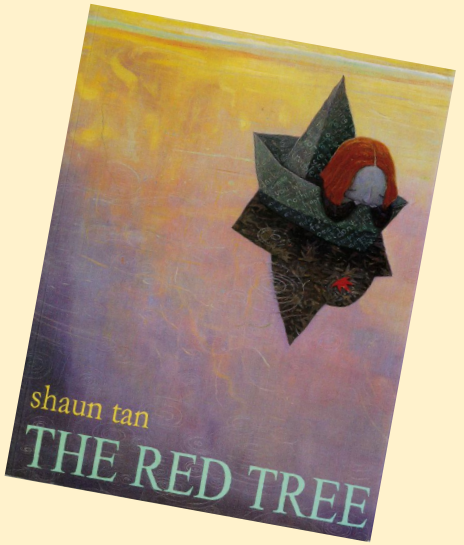
- I think this character…
- … makes me think that…

Use the sentence stems to help you.

Thursday

Our reading strategy is…

Inferring



Inferring Stems

The word * tells me

What does it mean to infer?

Can you remember any of our sentence stems?

wonderful things are passing

you

by terrible fates are inevitable

sometimes you just don't know what you are supposed to do

or who

you are meant to be or where you are

and the day seems to end
the way it began

but suddenly there it is right in front of you bright and vivid quietly waiting

Let’s review…

What is a setting?

A setting is where a story takes place. The setting could be a small, dusty village or a deep, dark wood.

but suddenly there it is right in front of you bright and vivid
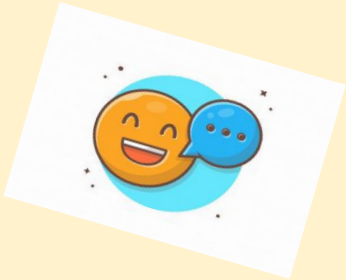
quietly waiting



Describe the setting for this part of the story?

Inferring stems

- I think the setting is…

Let's review…

What is the mood of a story?

The mood of the story is how the setting, characters and events in the story make the reader.

but suddenly there it is right in front of you bright and vivid
quietly waiting

What do you think the mood of this part of the story is?

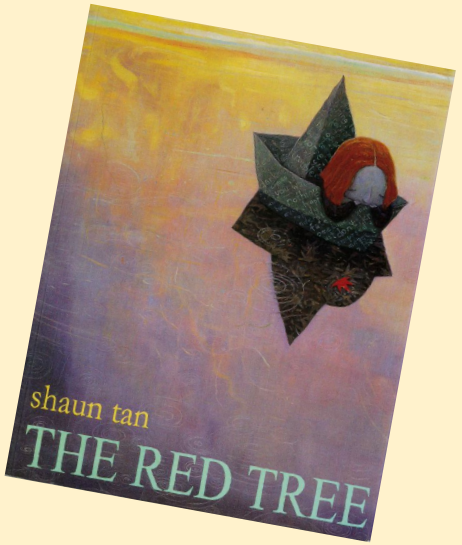
Inferring stems

- I think the mood is…

Friday

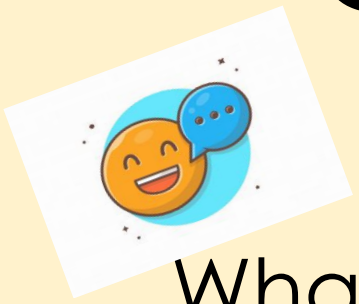
Our reading strategy is…

Inferring



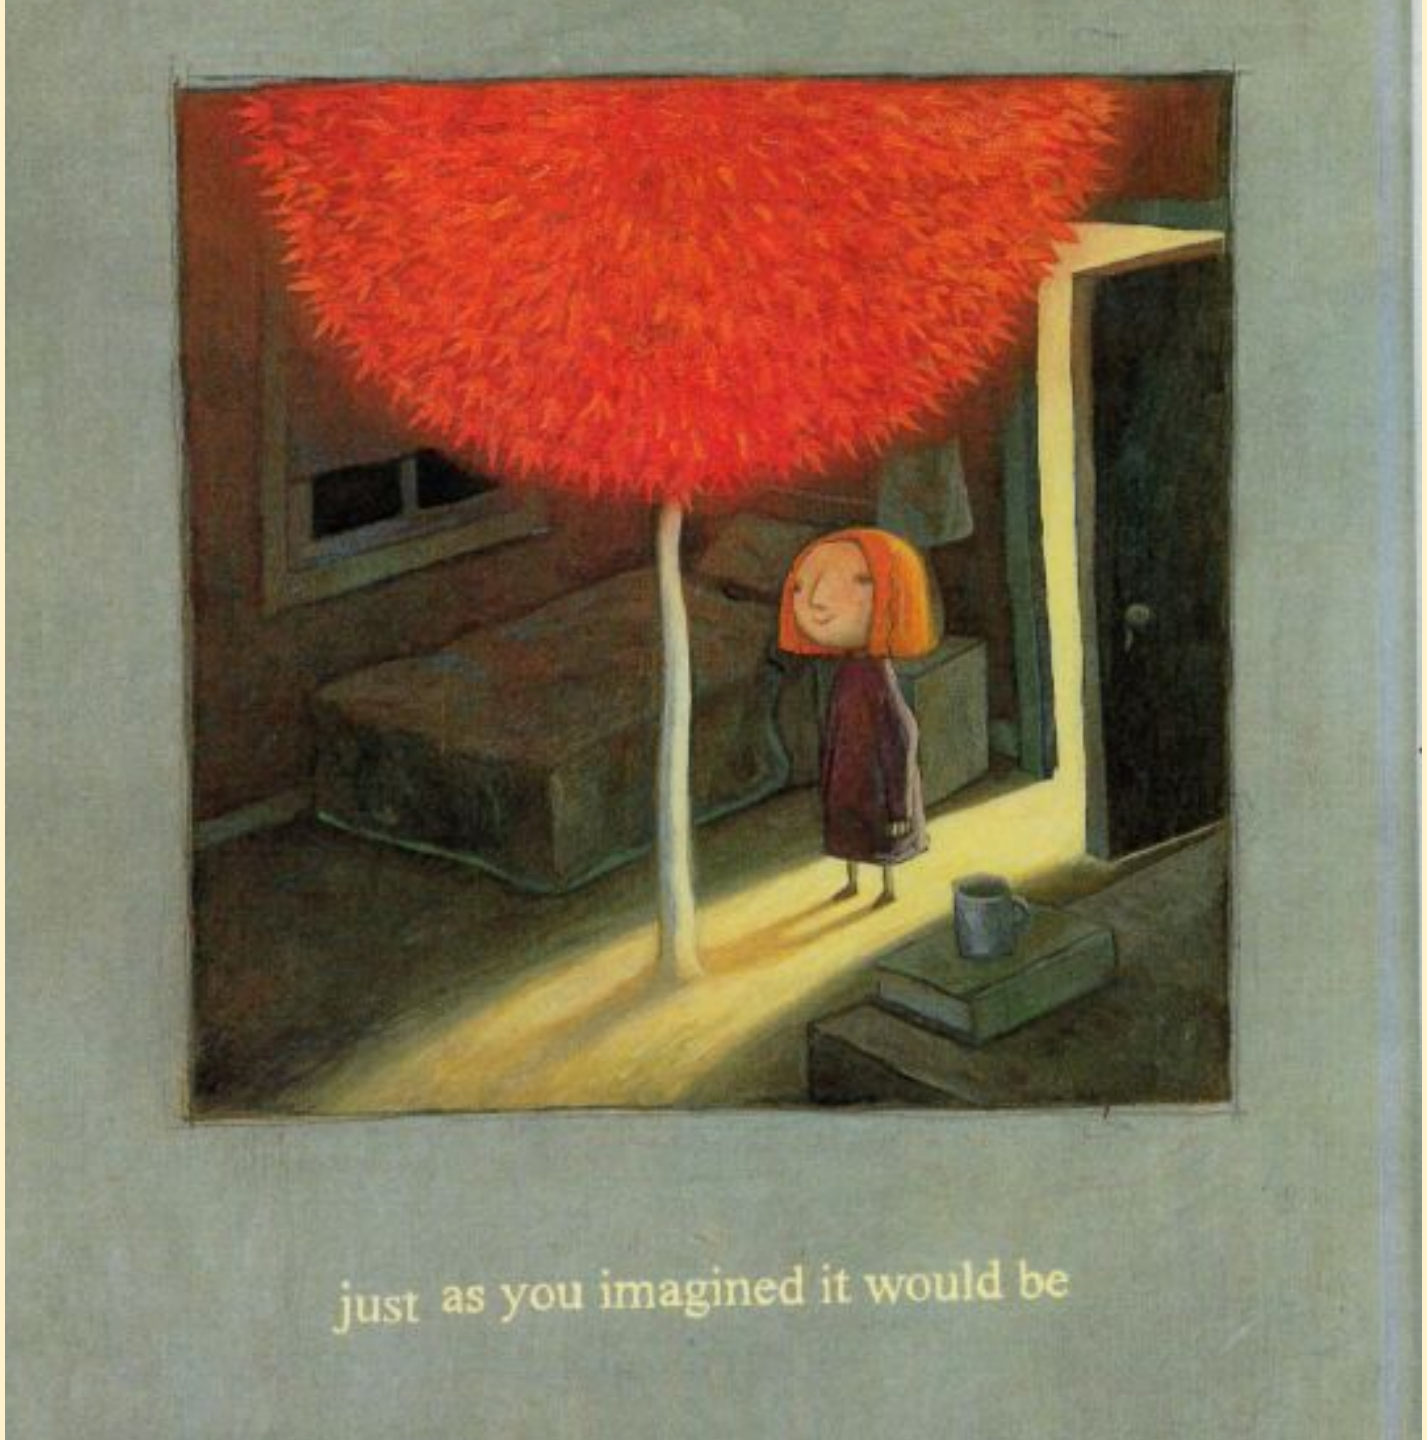
Inferring Stems

The word * tells me



What does it mean to infer?

Can you remember any of our sentence stems?



How do you think the little girl is felt when she found the tree?

Inferring stems

- I think this character…
- … makes me think that…

Can you use the conjunction because to explain why?